SPORTING COMMENT.

M. Jean De Reszke, the opera singer is about to gather one of the greatest stables of thoroughbreds in Europe. It is the singer's ambition to be the of a string of runners capable of win ning the grand turf events of the Old World. He will spend a great sum of noney to further his ambition and will get the best American jockey he can secure to ride his horses. In an interview M. De Reszke said: "Before returning home I hope to secure a prominent American jockey to ride my horses in the large stake races of Europe, in which I intend to take considerable interest next season. Like many others abroad, I have come to the conclusion that the old English style of riding is outclassed by the American style."

The case of Jem Hall, the Australian pugilist, now suffering from an affec-tion of the lungs, which, it is said, must inevitably result in his death, is one by no means uncommon among the ranks of the fistic fraternity. Joe Coburn Johany Dwyer, Pat Killen, Jack Dempsey and many other former lights of the ring passed over to the great majority from the same cause which threatens to cut short Hall's days on this terrestrial sphere. Over-training and dissi-pation are usually held to be the chief agents in winding up the average box er's career. Also, an athlete in condition like a prima donna in opera is ne cultarly liable to colds, and colds neg lected or enhanced by a spree are the lungs of the pugilist may be well developed by the running and walking he must do, but this will not strengthen them against the attacks of disease They are every bit as sensitive as the lungs of the ordinary layman. The reaction from training weakens the system and makes it an easy victim to various complaints.

The big saengerfest hall, which will figure just once in the role of a temple of Fistiana, on the occasion of the Ruhlin-Jeffries fight, February 15, is the biggest building ever selected for a like purpose. Its seating capacity is great er than that of any other building in America. As arranged for the champion-ship fight there will be seats for nearly 20,000 people. Work is now going on in the big job of preparing this vast structure for the occasion mentioned. The modifications are in charge of Cincinnati architects. The undertaking is a vast one, considering the fact that the building is to be destroyed after the championship fight, but it is only a small evidence of the interest shown by the business men of Cincinnati. It is realized that the fight will bring thousands of people to the Queen City from all over the country, and a crowd of the kind that believes the only use for money is to give it to somebody for money is to give it to somebody else.

Races at Chesapeake. Beach will probably begin on January 10. It was found necessary to postpone the opening until then, as part of the course was considered hardly suitable. Anybody who wishes can'make book, as the club will not allow a syndicate book.

Frank Erne, the retired light-weight champion, has not given up the idea of taking a course in architecture at Columbia University. He has decided to open a school for physical culture in New York, and with the proceeds to pay his way through college.

Lieutenant Gibson, the three-year-old race horse, wimmer of the Kentucky Derby and Clark Stakes, and favorite for the American Derby, in which he ran third, died a few days ago at Wash-ington, Park, Chicago. He belonged to Charles H. Smith, who last spring re-fused an offer of $20,000 for him.

Peter Oesland, the famous skater of Norway, will shorily visit this country, Oesland is the champion of Europe, and holds many world's records. He is coming to America to skate the best men of this country. At the world's championship, on the Devos Platz track, Germany, last year, Oesland skated 1,000 metres in 1 minute and 38 seconds, and his time for the half mile was 1 minute and 17 seconds, both world's records.

The stakeholder yesterday received the $100 forfeit for Australian Billy Ed-A. C., next Monday eve: ; Edwards is expected to arrive from from make Oscar Gardner's place his training headquarters. Donovan will be here Wednesday or Thursday.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 30.-It is ative of Manager William A. Brady, will be here to open up Jeffries' headquarters this week, and that Jeffries is expected to go into training at West Ha-den, Ind., next week. Gus Bezenah is trying to make a match for the prelimnary of the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight here, February 15.

Mr. W. A. Hincs, of Manchester, Ia, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. On New Year's night, and afternoon at the Opera House, the New York Casino management presents Thomas Q. Seabrooke at the head of the company Rounders," the latest and claimed to be It was first produced there early last entire summer. The company presenting it this year is almost identically the same as in the New York production, and Manager Lederer guarantees all the original scenery, costumes and stage effects to be exactly the same. "The Rounders" is by Harry B. Smith, and is said to be one of the brightest and most amusing pieces produced for some time. The music by Mr. Englandand a number of the "airs" have been the delicious swing which pervades them all. A series of the most amusing complications begin at the opening of the story and continue without ces tion until the close. In the hands of the present company, "The Rounders" have achieved a great success. It is heard or seen in an entire evening's performance. The production is one of the most elaborate Manager Lederer has ever sent out from the Casino, the company bringing all the original scenery and stage accessories used in the New York run of the play.

"The Katzenjammer Kids." Blondell and Fennessy's 'farce com edy, "The Katzenjammer Kids," the attraction at the Grand the first half of this week, a real treat may be looked for. The company is made up of clever vaudeville people and will probably make one of the hits of the season. Manager Feinler presents the attraction at regular prices, though it is an expensive one. The plot of the play hangs on a very fine thread, which frequently breaks to allow the interpolation of the specialties, of which there is a liberal supply. Edward Blondell, in his character of the Kid, was genuinely funny and had the audience screaming continuously. Libble Blondell appeared to gret advantage as Bessie. The midnight performance vertised for to-night, has been declared off by Manager Feinler.

HAPPY RESULTS

Have Made Many Wheeling Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Wheeling citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Wheeling by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mis. John Ritchle, of No. 922 Market street, says: "My back was dreadfully weak and sore, and I had rheumatic pains all through my shoulders and arms. I became so weak at times that I fainted. I was also subject to frequent attacks of vertigo, when everything around me seemed moving. There was distress and weakness in the kidney secretion and I could not better it, although I took lots of medicine. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised extensively I got a box at the Logan Drug Company's. They helped me at once and finally cured me."
